

2009 Camping Season

Sermon Series: Great Crises, Great Solutions

Life is full of crises of one kind or another. We often feel as though we can't handle one more problem, one more bit of pressure, one more thing that will crush us and destroy us. We think, "If I could just take a pill, if I could just escape and go to Never, Never Land then everything would be fine." No more pain. No more problems to solve. No more pressure to deal with. But, the pain continues unabated, the problems continue to mount. The pressure builds while we are attempting to escape. In the face of all of this, God seems to say nothing at all or even worse, He seems to say, "Press on. Hang on one more day." Our question, if we desire at all to please God at all, "How do I do this? How can I hang on when I have nothing to hang on to or with?" Does God have anything to say to me in this crisis that I am facing now?

This Summer we look at a few of the problems that you may face or that you will face in spite of the fact that you have taken every reasonable precaution to protect yourself from loss or harm. We will begin the series in late April and end the series with the close of the camping season in October. Please to join us each Sunday for this encouraging and helpful series as you face the uncertain future of daily living.

List of Problems:

Unplanned Pregnancy

Destroyed Relationships

Crisis Illness and Impending Death

Financial Difficulties and Disasters

Respecting Your Neighbors

Unexpected Illness

Advancing Age and Retirement

Unemployment and Job Loss

Family Life Situations